Sign of the Tree

What a glow of sunshine and happiness their color gives to the early spring garden! And what other flowers give such a wealth of bloom for so little care?

So Here's The Ten-Ten Bulb Book

To Make Bulb Buying Easier For You

White and blue hyacinths, jaunty Jonquils, and the rich beauty of Darwin and Breeder tulips, with their wonderful range of color!

What would the first weeks of the garden be, without these gay harbingers of Spring.

And yet, how often have you planned to have all the garden joy that a generous planting of Spring flowering bulbs will give, and, in the end, failed to plant them?

Failed, because, when bulb planting time came, and you get catalogues with endless lists of varieties, and conflicting descriptions and suggestions, you just simply never could find time to make out an order!

Or put it off, until, in desperation, when it was time to plant, you hurriedly made out a mixed up sort of a list, and sent it in.

And then, after waiting until the ground was beginning to freeze you finally got your bulbs; or part of them, with a notice saying that such and such varieties (always the ones you most wanted, of course) were sold out.

Your Bulbs Direct from Holland

How much more satisfactory to buy your bulbs the quick, sure, easy Ten-Ten way!

The Ten-Ten way is to order your bulbs now.

Getting your order before July 25th, we forward it direct to our growers, in Holland. Thus you get a full selection direct from the fields where they grow, of just the things you want. And, as your order will be included in the first shipments sent to this country you get your bulbs in good season, so you can plant early, and be sure of an abundance of blooms.

As you know, to get good results, the bulbs must not only be planted in the Fall, but early enough to make a good root growth before hard freezing weather.

By placing our orders early, we make a considerable saving.

We are glad to give our customers the full advantage of this saving.

But, of course, we cannot accept orders at these low prices a day later than July 25th.

Even without the other advantages mentioned above, the saving this makes, would be reason enough for ordering now, instead of waiting until next Fall.

In a word, you have everything to gain, and nothing to lose, by ordering before July 25th.

The Ten-Ten Policy

You'll find this book arranged on the Ten-Ten Plan, which our customers have, by their orders, and by letter, so enthusiastically endorsed.

Instead of leaving for you all the work of picking out varieties and making up collections, we've made up a number for you.

All you need to do is to order Ten Set number so and so, instead of writing out a whole list of varieties. That saves both you and us time; and saves you money. Or, of course, you can make your own selection of individual items.

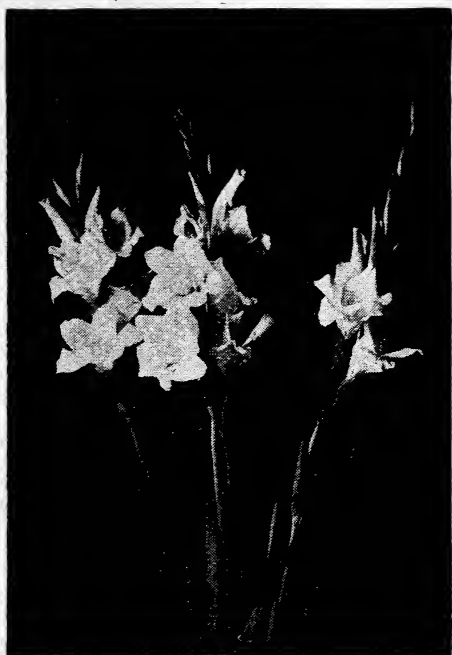

You'll find our bulb lists short enough to make selection easy, but long enough to include all the better things.

And we offer you only one quality bulbs—the very best obtainable, in size and quality.

And all the named varieties, we guarantee true to name. And to reach you in good condition.

Orders from this book, let us repeat, must reach us by July 25th, that being the day our last orders go to our Holland growers.

MAY WE SEND YOU AN ARMFUL OF THESE GLOWING "GLADS"?

Cut, in our fields, with the dew on; the first buds just opening; packed and shipped immediately; they will reach you, fresh as a sea-breeze!

One by one the flowers will come out, until the last bud on each stalk has revealed its treasure of rich color and delicate texture. Thus they remain fresh, for days and days.

And each variety is carefully labeled, true to name. So you can get acquainted with the newest and finest "Glads."

Fifteen spikes—an armful!—substantially packed, prepaid, for $1. (Which, as near as we can estimate, just covers our expense for packing, labeling, postage, etc.) For larger quantity, write for special price.

Just pin a dollar bill, or check, to this slip, write your name and address on the back, and mail to us.

Tulips

Without question, tulips have slowly but surely won their way to being the favorite among the spring flowering bulbs.

By a proper selection from the various types or classes, you can have them in bloom for a period of six to eight weeks.

For ourselves, while we like the early sorts, we think that the Darwins and Breeders, with their long graceful stems, giant flowers, and wonderful soft, deep and glowing colors, are the real queens of the Tulip family.

Plant Tulips This New Way

But we feel that most folks who garden do not as yet fully realize the way to use them for most beautiful effects. Why limit their planting to beds and borders? Why not use them for "high lights" in the spring garden everywhere?

Just try planting a few clumps of ten—one or two colors only—in a place: against the evergreens, and in the hardy borders, and in the foreground of shrubbery plantings.

Try this just Once and See the New and Charming Effects You Can Get

Forget the old round and square beds planted to geometrical color designs.

In your long borders, get either a mass of one or two colors, or else mix the varieties generously, and more or less haphazardly, so as to get a natural effect, and a long season of bloom.

Tulips

Get over thinking tulips stiff and stilted. It's the method of planting, not the flowers themselves, that have made them, mayhap, seem to you a "formal" flower.

Culture

For Out-doors, Tulips are best if planted several weeks before hard freezing.

Plant the early sorts about 4 to 5 inches apart and to a depth of twice their own greatest thickness. It is best to replant these each year, as they rarely find conditions where they will give satisfactory bloom after the first year.

Late Tulips, such as Cottage, Darwins, Breeders are planted about 6 inches apart, and a trifle deeper than the early sorts.

They may be planted for permanence, as they will go on blooming and multiplying for years.

For permanent plantings it is necessary to allow the foliage to mature before it is cut off. Or take up the bulbs and allow the tops to ripen slowly in some out of the way spot in the garden. When thoroughly dried, the bulbs may be stowed away in a cool airy room or cellar, until planting time in the fall.

Tulips for Forcing or Blooming Indoors

Pot up the bulbs immediately upon receipt and store them away, as suggested for Hyacinths.

Early varieties can sometimes be brought into the light in time for Xmas or New Years; but for the amateur it is better to wait until during January when the results will be better and more certain.

Some of the Late Flowering Varieties can be forced successfully but must be given more time to develop a root system.

Darwin Tulips

Darwin Tulips and Breeders

Do you really know modern tulips?

Not unless you have grown, for your very own, some of these huge fellows with stems so long that the family's youngest will have to stand on tiptoe to look into their glowing cups!

But in addition to their robust growth and giant dimensions, they have the most charming range of colors; in wonderful soft pastel shades, and in the Breeders, rich browns and mahoganies and terra cottas like the smouldering shadows in a Rembrandt painting—colors such as you never dreamed of in tulips before.

And they continue to bloom, bloom up to June.

Some early and May flowering sorts you'll want of course, but let your chief plantings be Darwins and Breeders.

And don't confine them to formal bulb beds. Use them anywhere you like as we have already suggested.

Ten-Strike Set of Darwins

The clear colors of the Darwins—pastel-like not only in quality but in the great range of unusual and soft shades—makes them distinct not only among tulips—but among all the flowers of the garden.

And they are giving a new conception of what may be done with tulips, in the garden.

The Ten-Strike Set includes the very finest of the Darwins—such tulips as you've never dreamed of if you haven't seen some of these varieties actually in bloom.

And keep in mind that you can plant them anywhere. For these soft glowing colors harmonize with almost any flower you can find in the garden.

Try them, to give a new note to your whole Spring garden.

Ten Strike Set of "Breeders"

In size of flowers and height of stalk, many of the "Breeders" surpass even the giant Darwins.

The colors are mostly wonderful dull bronzes, mahog-anies, and purples, such as will be sought for in vain elsewhere in the garden, at any time of the year—colors which look as though they had come down from the palettes of the old masters.

In contrast to the brighter colored May-flowering and Darwin tulips, they are wonderfully effective in the Spring garden. Blooming at the same time they can be used to advantage together. Moreover, many of the breeders are sweet scented.

Darwin Tulips

Our "Tulip Garden" Set of Darwins

So earnest are we in our desire to have all our friends become thoroughly acquainted with the glorious modern Darwins, that we've made up this special set, at a price that just covers costs.

It consists of twenty-five first quality bulbs, of each of twenty-five of the finest named varieties of Darwins, including those in the Ten-Sets above.

These sets are made up in Holland; each variety named. They come to you in the original package.

"Tulip Garden" set of Darwins. 25 bulbs each of 25 named varieties, (625 bulbs in all) $25.

This, we believe, is more tulip joy for the money than you can possibly get in any other way!

Cottage or May-Flowering Tulips

Among the many splendid colors of the May-flowering tulips, are to be had the sunny yellows and clear whites, which are wanting in the Darwins and Breeders; for that reason, you'll want May-flowering tulips.

And you'll want them also, because they fill the gap between the early flowering and the late types.

In the Ten-Strike Set following, we've collected the finest of the newer varieties; and in the "Ten of the most Pleasing" you'll get a wide range of color and of flower form. Better let us get both sets for you.

Single Early Tulips

Ten Single Early for Forcing

Tulips in Winter! What cheer their bright colors and uplifted cups give, during the dull days, when it begins to seem as though Spring just never would come again!

And it's so easy to have them, even if you have no greenhouse. Because all the planting is done out of doors.

Then, after they're potted and stored away, you just bring them into the heat and light as you want them—like getting a jar of peaches from the cellar shelves.

The varieties below, are all particularly good for forcing.

NARCISSI

Daffodils & Jonquils

Here's a flower which, for all 'round general satisfaction giving, has few equals.

First of all, most of them are hardy as milk weeds.

You'll find them still welcoming the first sunny days, years after the house about which they had been planted has disappeared.

They will live and bloom spring after spring, with no attention whatsoever. But, like anything else, of course, they appreciate some attention.

Then, what flowers are there, inside the bulb class or out, that are so simple or gracefully charming as narcissus, particularly the single varieties.

No wonder they were considered "the poet's flower."

The qualities above combine to make narcissus ideal for "naturalizing" or planting where they will look as though they had "just grewd."

Here's an opportunity for adding a note of charm and individuality to your place that shouldn't be overlooked.

Even two or three dozen bulbs planted every fall will soon give to your place an effect that no amount of formal gardening can give.

Culture For Outdoors

For planting for permanence, put the bulbs at a depth of about twice their own greatest diameter. Such varieties as Emperor, Victoria and other large trumpets should be set from 6 to 8 inches apart while smaller types, like Poeticus, can be set 4 to 6 inches apart.

JULIUS ROEHRS CO.

Narcissi

For Naturalizing, select, if possible a rather light soil, that is in good condition. Turn back the sod in small sections; loosen up the soil, working in a little coarse ground bone meal, and after planting, pack the sod back firmly.

For Forcing

Pot up the same as Tulips.

The Polyanthus type may be forced either in pots or in bowls with pebbles and water. The varieties most suited for early forcing are Golden Spur and the Polyanthus sorts.

Narcissus should not be put in too high a temperature, as the flowers and stems will develop much more naturally if allowed to come along slowly.

Ten Strike Set

During the last few years, the development of Narcissi, Daffodils, and Jonquils has brought many splendid new varieties. The cream of these, you will find in this Ten-Strike Set.

	Each Ten Hundred
DUKE OF BEDFORD. A beautiful bi-color trumpet variety with a pure white perianth and a large broad trumpet of clear soft yellow	.65	5.80	52.00

Ten Trumpets

These are the big golden fellows (there are some white ones, too) which make the Spring garden glad, with their sunny nods and smiles!

“Trumpet or Crown as long, or longer, than the perianth segments”—says the botanical classification—meaning, between you and me and the garden post, that the trumpet is more conspicuous than the petals.

Out of the dozens of varieties, we offer you ten which we know you'll find pleasing if you want to try them all. But of course, we'll gladly send any one or more varieties you wish.

HYACINTHS

The flower of good cheer!

How their bright colors, pushing above the sodden mould of spring, almost before the snow leaves, seem to rejuvenate the whole landscape.

No garden is so small as not to hold room for a few of them, even though it be but a row against the foundation wall of the house or around the cellar window.

But most folks are afraid to use hyacinths as they may be used.

They're still sold in many catalogs in collections, ready made to plant a round bed in the front lawn, in four pie-slices, blue, red, pink and white!

Give your hyacinths a chance!

Use them as you do other plant material, to help paint the garden picture as a whole.

Spread them around.

Mix them in with other things.

And try masses of single colors, here and there about the place, right in the spots that are barest in early spring, in the shrubbery or among the hardy perennials.

Try at least one planting this way, on our recommendation.

Culture

For outdoor use, Hyacinths should be planted as soon as the bulbs are received. Put them about 6 inches deep and 6 inches apart. After the ground has frozen, mulch

JULIUS ROEHRS CO.

Hyacinths

with a covering of leaves or strawy manure. (This mulch to be taken off again in the Spring.)

For forcing Hyacinths in the house or greenhouse they should be potted up as early as possible and either buried in a cold frame about 6 or 8 inches deep, or kept in a cool dark cellar, where they will not be allowed to dry out and will receive plenty of air.

The top of the bulbs should be even with the surface of the soil in the pot.

After the bulbs have made good root growth, they are ready to be brought into the light. This should be done gradually; usually not before the end of January or early February.

They are best forced in a light warm room with even temperature, where they can have plenty of sunlight.

Do not allow the soil to dry out at any time.

Ten Light and Dark Blue Hyacinths

HARDY LILLIES

For Fall Planting

No plants that give more for the time and trouble investment required, or give it more certainly and continuously, than most of the Hardy Lilies.

Use them where their regal flower stalks will show against the evergreens and in the hardy border at not too frequent intervals, and where you want spots of color around the boundary lines that will show from a distance.

Against the house, the garage, wherever you need permanent, tall flowers for a fitting background, remembering that they bloom in late Summer and early Fall—when most flowers are scarce.

GOLDEN-RAYED LILY OF JAPAN (Lilium auratum).

Large white flowers spotted reddish-brown, with broad bands of gold down the center of each petal. 3-4 feet. July-August. 50c. each, $4.50 per 10.

CANADIAN LILY (Lilium canadense). Grows from 2 to 4 feet high and bears on slender stems, terminal clusters of drooping flowers, orange, spotted with brown. July. 30c. each, $2.50 per 10.

MADONNA LILY (Lilium candidum). White, 3 feet, June-July. 40c. each, $3.50 per 10. One of the most beautiful of all; should be planted earlier than others, in late August or early Sept.

LILIUM REGALE (L. myriophyllum). A new Chinese Lily. The center of the flower is flushed with yellow, shading to white at the outer edges, and externally the flowers are streaked with brown and shade to pink at the tips. 3-4 feet. July. $1.00 each.

LILIUM speciosum album. White. 2-3 feet. August-September. 45c. each, $4.00 per 10.

LILIUM speciosum rubrum. White, spotted rosy crimson. 2-3 feet. Aug.-Sept. 45c each, $4.00 per 10.

SWAMP LILY (Lilium superbum). Graceful stems, 5-6 feet, terminating in a pyramid of bright orange-crimson flowers. July-Aug. 30c. each, $2.50 per 10.

CROCUSES

Here are the earliest of all!

Starring the grass with their cheerfully colored cups, before even the Hyacinths or Tulips have awakened to the fact that Spring is here, they are welcome as the first evening chorus of "peepers" in the meadow. And they'll grow anywhere—in beds, or under shrubbery, or scattered broadcast under trees or over a sweeping slope of lawn.

YOUR HARDY BORDER

For Flowers Next Spring Set Out Plants this Fall

The "old-fashioned hardy border," is old-fashioned in name only.

The old fashion thing, in fact, is not to have a hardy perennial border!

Hardy perennial plants that are hardy and husky and full of vigor is one of the hobbies we ride hardest. Our collection of these, in variety, is second to no commercial collection in the country. It includes of course, many things not listed in the selected "Ten" lists which follow. If there are things you want that are not listed here, write us for them.

But the things that are listed here will give you a hardy border that will be a Summer-long joy and delight. And the plants, all grown by ourselves, right here under "The Tree" at Rutherford, are the sort that will surely give results.

The plants listed on the following pages are all exceptionally good for Fall planting. Ordered now, along with your bulbs, we will ship them when we think conditions are best for transplanting in the Fall, notifying you in advance. Or at any date you say.

Perennials for Fall Planting

Ten Herbaceous Peonies

For ease of culture, for gorgeous masses of color, either where they grow or as cut blooms in the house, no flowers excel the modern Peonies. Practically free from any insect pests or disease; so hardy that they do not require a mulch for the Winter. They bloom year after year in the same place, without even the occasional re-planting that most perennials ask.

Plant generously of Peonies, not only in the hardy border, but along the front of your boundary-line shrubs. One of the best perennials for Fall planting.

Ten Hardy Phloxes

After the Peonies and the Iris are gone, nothing takes their place quite so completely as the Hardy Phloxes. They give long-lasting masses of color in the mixed border and are equally satisfactory for cutting.

The newer varieties are improved not only in size, but include a range of attractive colors and shades that, compared to the limited old varieties, make them seem like a new kind of flower.

Phloxes will succeed in almost any deep, well-manured soil; their most important requirement being plenty of water during the growing season.

The following Collection has been carefully selected from the best varieties of recent introduction, and will be found superior to the older varieties in greatly increased size of truss and individual flower, in greater delicacy of coloring, and wider range of color shades, and also in improved habit of growth.

The flowering season commences early in July and by removing the spikes of blooms as soon as faded, it can be prolonged until October.

Irises

What would Spring in the garden be without the iridescent Iris? As hardy and disease-free as the Peonies, they fill the hardy border with color for weeks. In general satisfaction giving, they would come near the top of any list of hardy plants. In ordering, select some of each of the different types. The Japanese sorts come into bloom just after the German varieties are through. Planted this Fall, they will flower generously next spring.

In the following descriptions S, denotes the erect petals or standards; F, denotes the lower petals or falls.

Ten Japanese Irises

The Japanese Irises are the tallest and most exquisitely colored of all. They are most effective, too, for cutting. Words cannot picture the delicate beauty of the immense flowers, with their broad, filmy petals. And the clean, light green foliage is handsome in the Spring and attractive long after the flowers go. You can use them by the water's edge, and in the regular border. You will find a collection of them a great addition to your garden in every way. Order this splendid set now, to be shipped with your bulbs early this Fall.

Narcissi so hardy that, year after year, they go on blooming like this, with no more attention than the meadows and woodlands which so set off their graceful beauty.
